- July's test administration will report scores for multiple-choice tests in 17 business days, a reduction of 5 business days.

Dear Client:

At the 2009 Praxis Client Conference, the Praxis™ Program shared that we were working to reduce the score reporting turnaround time for our paper-based Multiple Choice (MC)-only tests to a 17 business day reporting cycle.

We are excited to report that we have successfully piloted reporting multiple-choice (MC) test scores in this reduced timeframe for the July administration and will be moving forward to operationalize this process for the 2009-2010 testing year. ETS will report over 51,000 multiple-choice test results within 17 business days for the July administration. That is 90% of all the tests taken during the July administration.

With the success of this pilot, test takers will be able to get their MC-only test scores earlier:

- Scores by phone will be available today, August 14th
- Score reports will be posted online or mailed on Tuesday, August 18th

Please note that this is only for multiple-choice tests. Test scores for MC/constructed-response tests and for constructed response-only tests will report next week. Test takers who took an MC-only test AND a test containing constructed-response questions on the same test date will receive two separate score reports.

Score recipients have been notified that they will be receiving multiple-choice test score reports earlier starting with the July administration.

Please contact your Client Relations Director if you have any questions.

Thank you.
